What is this type of insurance?

General Third Party liability insurance is generally voluntary. However, the insurance obligation may also arise from law (e.g. the Chemicals Act, the Railways Act and the Waste Act).

What is insured?

- ✓ The insurance covers damage caused to a third party by the insured person during activities agreed on in the insurance contract, which the insured person is obliged to indemnify. That is, if the insured person is guilty of causing the damage, it will be indemnified by the insurer.
- ✓ The insurance covers the costs of legal defence and expert analysis required to dispute or manage the claim and/or the damage caused by the insured person.
- ✓ The insurance cover extends to damage related to the activities agreed on in the insurance contract. For instance, if the area of activity specified in the contract is construction, the insurance only covers damage caused during construction activities.
- ✓ The insurance cover extends to damage occurred in the location of insurance specified in the insurance contract. For instance, if the location of insurance is Estonia, the insurance only covers damage caused in Estonia.
- ✓ Conditions can be negotiated upon the policyholder's request. Specificities are listed in the insurance contract.
- ✓ An insured event is a damage caused during the insurance period, as a result of which the insured person becomes obliged to indemnify the damage caused.
- ✓ The limit of indemnity and the deductible are specified in the insurance contract. The limit of indemnity is reduced by the indemnity paid and legal costs.

What is not insured?

- ✗ The insurance does not cover risks related to producer's, employer's or professional liability or
- ✗ activities that are not specified in the insurance contract. It must always be ensured that the field of activity specified in the insurance contract is correct and exhaustive.
- ✗ The insurance cover does not extend to damage that was known to have occurred before entry into the insurance contract.

Are there any restrictions on cover?

- ! The list of damage types not covered by the insurance and exclusions are given in the policy conditions. For instance, the insurance does not cover:
  - ! intentionally caused damage;
  - ! claims related to non-patrimonial damage (e.g. pain and suffering);
  - ! claims submitted due to force majeure (e.g. natural disaster);
  - ! fines, interest and other penalties imposed on the insured person in addition to the damage;
  - ! claims related to returning the contract fee and costs that the insured person has to cover to improve or redo the work that was done improperly.

Where am I covered?

- ✓ General Third Party liability insurance applies in the location agreed on in the insurance contract. If the contract does not specify the location of insurance, the location of insurance is the Republic of Estonia.

What are my obligations?

- Before entering into an insurance contract, you must provide the insurer with the required data. The data submitted must be complete and correct. Additionally, the insurer expects the client to submit data that is of substantial, recognisable interest to the insurer and has an important effect on the insurance premium without being asked to do so. Such information includes a description of the company's field of activity, turnover and information about prior damage or events that may develop into claims.
- The insurer must be notified of any changes to the submitted data that occur after entry into the insurance contract.
- The policyholder's main obligation is to pay the insurance premium.
- Policyholder must also behave reasonably during the insurance period in order to avoid insured events.

- Upon an occurrence of an insured event, the insurer must be notified immediately. The policyholder must also take appropriate measures to avoid any further damage.

When and how do I pay?

The insurance premium or a part thereof must be paid in the amount and by the date specified in the policy. The premium is usually paid by bank transfer on the basis of an invoice.

When does the cover start and end?

The insurance cover begins and ends on the dates specified in the policy.

The insurance cover may end before the date specified in the policy if the insurance contract expires or is terminated prematurely. For instance, the insurer may terminate the contract if the insurance premium is left unpaid.

How do I cancel the contract?

The policyholder cannot terminate their insurance contract prematurely.

The insurance contract can only be terminated prematurely upon mutual agreement between the parties under extraordinary circumstances. for instance, when the insured company ceases to operate.

In order to terminate the contract, you must submit a respective application to the insurer.
