What are my obligations?

- Before entering into an insurance contract, you must provide the insurer with the required data. The data submitted must be complete and correct. Additionally, the insurer expects the client to submit data that is of substantial, recognisable interest to the insurer and has an important effect on the insurance premium without being asked to do so.
- The insurer must be notified of risk situations and changes thereto.
- The policyholder's main obligation is to pay the insurance premium.
- They must also follow the safety requirements specified in the insurance contract, e.g.
 - consider the state of their health, circumstances and the usual rules of conduct during their activities;
 - take reasonable care of their things;
 - pack their things carefully so that they will not break or damage other things in their luggage, considering regular baggage handling;
 - follow the instructions of their doctor, travel agent, the police, etc.; and

When and how do I pay?

The insurance premium and payment deadline are specified in the policy. The premium is usually paid by bank transfer on the basis of an invoice. If the contract becomes effective after the payment of the premium, the payment deadline is specified in the proposal.

When does the cover start and end?

The cover becomes effective on the commencement date of the insurance period and ends upon its expiry.

The cover for trip cancellation also applies before the insurance period and starts 72 hours after the premium is paid.

Travel insurance contracts can usually be entered into for one specific trip or for the whole year, so that all of the trips made within that year are covered - this is called multi-trip travel insurance. In the case of multi-trip travel insurance, you must keep in mind that the cover starts at the beginning of your trip and remains valid for the number of days specified in the contract.

It may also end before the expiry of the insurance period specified in the contract. For instance, the insurer may terminate the contract if the insurance premium is left unpaid.

How do I cancel the contract?

In order to terminate the contract, you must submit a respective application to the insurer. In general, the contract can only be terminated prematurely upon mutual agreement between the policyholder and the insurer.
